LANGEVIN'S CASE.

The Committee on Privileges and Elections yesterday adopted the majority report of the sub committee on the Langevin case by 18 to 9. The report was submitted to Parliament in the evening. It is likely that Parliament will be asked to bear Tarte's expenses as well as those of the defense.

THE IMPRISONED SEALERS.

Mr. McDougall called attention to the report in the British Columbia newspapers, that Captains Alex. and Dan. McLean, two Cape Bretoners, were taken prisoners by the Russians for sealing in Behring Sea, and asked the Government to take steps to ascertain if the report is true, and then secure the release of the prisoners. Mr. Tupper said he was expecting the report of Collector Milne, who had taken great interest in the Behring Sea matter. As soon as the report should be received the Government would take action.

MERCIER SCANDAL.

The Governor-General yesterday sent to Parliament a copy of the letter received from Lieut.-Governor Angers, of Quebec, relative to the Baie des Chaleurs railway scandal. Enclosed with that of Angers is a letter from Premier Mercier, in which the whole question is reviewed. Governor Angers notices the revelations in the Senate committee, relative to the misappropriation of provincial funds, and recites the testimony of various witnesses bearing on the matter, particularly of the bank managers, and in effect censures Mr. Mercier for issuing without his (Angers) consent or approval, letters of credit to the amount of $175,000 to a company, which money was subsequently misapplied. The lieutenant-governor demands the appointment of a judicial commission to investigate the whole matter, and names Judges Jette, Baby and Davidson as its members. In conclusion, Mr. Angers revokes the authority given the deputy lieutenant-governor to sign money warrants, and restricts his functions to necessary acts of administration.

English Views of Our Scandals.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Most of the morning papers devote their leaders to the Canadian scandals. The St. James Gazette goes so far as to declare that the entire public life in the Dominion is an Augean stable, awaiting a Hercules to clean it out. Politics have fallen into lower hands than those of the least reputable politicians of England.

The Star traces the scandals home, making Sir John Macdonald responsible for them, who, with his usual luck, died before the exposure of the corruption for which he is chargeable. Canada cannot be purified while the present government is in power. Premier Abbott and Sir Hector Langvin are involved in the late Premier's swindles.

The Pall Mall Gazette ridicules the contention of the Times, that members of the Canadian parliament should not be paid salaries, and advised the Times to look nearer home for the effect of such a policy. It is well known that many a minister here has sold his soul for the fat salaries attached to office.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—This is American day at the fair, and there is a big crowd. The weather is very warm. The British Columbia exhibit goes from here to London and Montreal, being divided. There were a number of applications for it. The court is always crowded. Nanaimo's large framed view arrived to-day, and is much admired. The Fraser salmon are still on ice. The fair this year is especially successful.

Russia's Abortive Scheme.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—A Berlin dispatch says that the latest information leaves no doubt that the gathering of an immense Russian force in Bessarabia was intended as part of a plot to capture Constantinople by means of the Russian fleet and army. This plot has miscarried, and matters go on with the sublime Porte much as ever, the country being bankrupt and even the Sultan having to curtail his household expenditures. The mention of the Mitylene incident was the first intimation to Russia that an English fleet was near the Dardanelles and prepared to act in case of necessity should Russia continue to send vessels of war through the straits.

JOINING HANDS.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 15.—The greatest railroad combination ever known in the West came to light to-day. The deal is nothing less than a combination in one system and under one management of the Great Northern, Canadian Pacific and Soo systems of railways. While, of course, nothing is known definitely and officially concerning this great scheme, it comes from sources that give it a strong color of authenticity, and the probability of its truth is strengthened by many incidents which have transpired of late. Indications have been numerous of late of some sort of an agreement between Thomas Lowry and Jim Hill, presidents, respectively, of the Soo and Great Northern. As the former is practically controlled by the Canadian Pacific it follows that there is some friendly agreement between the Great Northern and Canadian Pacific. But such proof as to the co-operation between the two latter roads in not needed, as they have now a close traffic arrangement on transcontinental business. Another incident which has some significance is that President Hill is now making a tour of the Canadian Pacific, between St. Paul and the coast, in company with Lord Mount Stephen, the most prominent member of the Canadian Pacific directorate. Along about 1880, when Lord Mount Stephen was plain George Stephen, he was president of the Manitoba road, now the principal line in the Great Northern system. Afterward he was made president of the Canadian Pacific, and it was under his administration of the road's affairs that the Canadian Pacific was pushed through to the Pacific coast. For his services in this the Queen made him a peer of the British realm. He is now the controlling spirit of the Canadian Pacific, and whatever he decides in connection with it is strictly carried out. He and Mr. Hill have been inspecting a piece of road which their respective companies have been building together in Washington state, which will give them both an entrance to the seaports on Puget Sound. But the great scheme is projected on a grander scale than the mere combination of the three roads named. It also includes both trans-Pacific and trans-Atlantic lines of steamships. The trans-Pacific line is already established, and the steamships are making regular trips. The trans-Atlantic, it is said, will be established just as soon as the combination of the roads is consumated. Halifax will be the port from which the steamships will sail on this side, and they will probably go to Liverpool. It is possible that a line to Germany may also be established. The traffic between England and China and Japan will not only be diverted largely to this route by way of America, but will be carried by one great corporation under one management. It is an astounding instance of the extent to which transportation companies will extend their power. The fact that the Great Northern is rapidly pushing forward its transcontinental line, confirms rather than disproves the story of the combination. For when the trans-Atlantic line of steamships is established and the country through which the roads run is fully developed, two trunk lines between St. Paul and the Pacific coast will be needed to take care of the traffic.

MONTREAL, Sep. 16.—It is reported here that the Canadian Pacific, Great Northern and "Soo" lines will consolidate. Sir Donald A. Smith and R. S. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, have gone to St. Paul, where they will confer with Lord Mount Stephen, Mr. Van Horne and Mr. J. J. Hill.

The Tacoma Robbery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—David Wilson, owner of the California block and other large property interests at Tacoma, who was formerly from Santa Cruz, arrived here last night. He is a friend of T. B. Wallace, president of the Fidelity Bank, and says he understands that the actual amount of cash Albertson carried away with him was $19,000. This appears to be the amount exclusive of what he had previously embezzled. The bank was, he says, insured in the Eastern Fidelity & Casualty Company against such losses by a policy of $10,000, consequently the Fidelity Bank will get that much back.

Fire in a College.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 16.—This morning fire was discovered on the roof of Willamette University. Before the arrival of the fire department the entire top was enveloped in flames, but by good work was confined to that section of the building. The school was in session when the fire was discovered, but cool heads prevented a panic. The main portion of the building was considerably damaged with water. The school has been in session but a few days. The loss is estimated at $7500, covered by a policy for $10,000.

Hurricane at Fresno.

FRESNO, Sept. 16.—Yesterday afternoon quite a hurricane passed over this section of country. The wind blew furiously, accompanied by a slight fall of rain and hail. Three or four miles west of Fresno it hailed heavily, doing considerable damage to some sections, beating down grapes and fruits and entirely stripping many vines of their leaves. In the same neighborhood half dried raisins were stacked up to secure them against rain. These were blown over and the raisins scattered.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

H. FRIED AND HIS WIFE WILL STAND THEIR TRIAL.

Two Witnesses Called To-Day But no Startling Evidence Produced—The Defendants Allowed the Same Bail as They Have Been Out on.

The case of Mr. and Mrs. H. Fried, charged with abducting Miss Hattie May, was called in the Provincial Court this morning, befort Mr. Robert Ward, J.P. Deputy Attorney-General Barton appeared for the Crown and Mr. W. J. Taylor for the defence. There was not as large an audience present as on former occasions as the general impression was that the case would be disposed of almost immediately. The prosecution, however, announced that they would call several witnesses, the first being:

Mrs. Kate Randle, who deposed that she lived on Kane street and knew Mrs. Fried, Hattie May and Mrs. Chennelle. On the evening of Saturday the 5th, Mrs. Chennelle and Hattie May went to witness' house. Mrs. Chennelle asked her if she would keep the girl until Monday. The girl stayed with her until Wednesday.

To His Honor—It was the girl that begged her to take her in, as she said her father had been cruel to her. She said she would be all right after her father left.

Mr. Taylor objected to the way the evidence was being taken down by the Superintendent of Police, who acts as clerk for the court.

Officer McNeill deposed that he arrested Mrs. Fried on the 9th inst. He told Mrs. Fried to be careful what she said to him as he was an officer. Mrs. Fried said the girl had gone down town and that she had not seen the girl since Saturday. He saw Mrs. Fried on the 8th, she was with Hattie May. They met on the corner of Douglas and Fort streets.

To Mr. Taylor—He would be surprised to learn that it was not Mrs. Fried with Hattie May. He did not think it was Mrs. Randle's sister with the girl. He was half a block away from the couple.

To the court—He had no doubt in his mind that it was Mrs. Fried with Hattie May.

To Mr. Taylor—He went to Fried's house with Mr. May on the 4th inst. May did use some foul language to Mrs. Fried. It was not proper language for a man to use before a lady.

The prosecution here closed their case.

Mr. Taylor for the defense submitted that there was no evidence to show that the Frieds took the girl by force or by inducements. The girl's consent had nothing to do with the case unless it could be shown that the Fried's influenced the girl's consent wrongfully. Where is the evidence to show that the girl was even lured from her father? The girl, the only one that could tell whether Fried induced her to leave her father, is not called. The flimsy pretext of the Attorney-General for not calling the girl was a matter to be laughed at instead of argued. The Attorney-General's statement that he did not want to call the girl to satisfy the curiosity of idlers could have been easily overcome by the court being cleared. The Attorney-General has also insulted the city police either as a point against his clients or a point in favor of the Provincial police, and as a matter of fact the girl came to the Provincial police. She had gone to her father the day before she went to the police. The last day the case was on the girl and her mother had gone to Fried's house and apologized for the way in which the case had been brought on, stating that the father had an unusually hot temper and was easily excited. The girl then said that the statement she had made to the Attorney-General and the police cleared the Frieds of all blame. She had said that she refused to go back to her father until she had been assured that the Frieds would not be prosecuted. His clients were far from guilty. They pursued a course that any honest and decent people would have pursued. Another thing his honor had refused to give him a subpœna for the girl last week, reserving his decision until to-day.

The Attorney-General—Mr. Taylor could have obtained a subpœna.

Mr. Tayler continuing, said his honor had refused to give him a subpœna for the girl reserving his decision until to-day. He pointed out at the time that it would be useless this week as the girl would be taken away, and she has been taken away. His honor's duty was to commit or discharge the defendants, as the case may be, but his friend the Attorney-General had a greater duty to perform. He knows what the testimony of the girl is. If it criminates the Frieds he should bring it forward, and if it shows them to be innocent he should produce it. It was a detriment to his clients, but it was immaterial, as the defendants would never be convicted in a higher court. The evidence that would clear the character of his clients had not been produced. Mr. Taylor then reviewed the case, bringing out new points, but was stopped by His Honor stating that he had already made up his mind as to which course he would pursue.

The Attorney-General said it was hardly necessary for him to say anything. A lot that Mr. Taylor had said was not based on evidence. The girl had not been assured that there would be no prosecution. The case was one that should be investigated.

His Honor—Enough evidence had been produced to show that the accused were in unlawful possession of the girl, and he committed them for trial.

The defendants had nothing to say when asked. The court allowed them out on the same bail that they have had during the past week. They had not found anyone to go their bail up to the time of going to press.

NANAIMO NEWS.

A Death on the Street—The Miners Assessment Matter.

NANAIMO, Sept. 16.—Notice have been posted at the different pit heads calling upon the union men to pay their assessments before the 24th of the present month or suffer dismissal. The notices are signed by the committee of No. 1 Lodge, and it is apparent they must have had the sanction of the superintendent to post them. The feeling in respect to this move is running high, and the other faction aver that they will not pay one cent of assessment, so that there is likely to be trouble over the matter.

AN INTERRUPTED ELOPEMENT.

Louis Spina, an Italian, living at South Wellington, and Miss Josephine Willimarst decided to elope on Monday night and came to Nanaimo to get married without asking permission of Josephine's parents. Their good intentions were checked by their not being able to procure a license at night, and a telephone message to Constable O'Connell frustrated their intention of getting married the next day. They were brought before Mr. J. P. Planta, S.M., and Louis claimed that Josephine's mother had given her permission and promised him $100 as a wedding present. The father explained that it was a joke, as his daughter was to young to get married. Eventually the girl left with her friends, and the lover was bailed out by his friends. Later in the day an amicable arrangement was arrived at and peace now reigns serene in the family.

DIED ON THE STREET.

As the Rev. Mr. Good, Baptist minister, was wending his way along Nicol street yesterday afternoon he came across an elderly man lying on the sidewalk as though he was in a fit. The gentleman tenderly raised the man and called for assistance, which was promptly rendered by some men working close by, but before they could reach him the old man gave two or three gasps and expired. The coroner, Mr. J. P. Planta, and Dr. Davis were at once notified and had the body conveyed to Hilbert's undertaking rooms, as no one seemed to know the man. He was subsequently recognized as Robert Mason, residing on Nicol street. He has been suffering from the effects of a fit he had about two years ago while working in the mines. The deceased leaves a wife and two children. An inquest will be held on the body to-day.

DEATH OF AN OLD-TIMER.

The death of William Beveridge, senior, took place at ten o'clock on Monday night after a lengthy illness. The deceased had held the position of convict guard for a number of years, but had to resign his position on account of ill health. The funeral took place to-day under the auspices of the Oddfellows' and Workmen's lodges. The cortege was a most imposing one, and was followed by a large number of buggies to the cemetery. The deceased leaves a wife and two sons to mourn his demise.

THE AUSTRALIANS DEPART.

Dutch and Steveson left yesterday morning for New Westminster, but will be back here for the show at Victoria and will probably give an exhibition race if no other aquatic sports are arranged. Steveson, while practising here, ran on one of the harbor buoys where he was placed high and dry, with a considerable hole in his boat. Thanks to the skill of a local boatman the breach was neatly and clearly repaired. It is said that the Australian boys will walk off with everything at New Westminster, and a lot of money is going up on them already.

Commander Kellogg's Trouble.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Commander Augustus G. Kellogg, of the U. S. navy, lately on duty at League Island navy yard, was yesterday removed to St. Elizabeth asylum for treatment for brain trouble. The board of physicians who examined the case, reported that his condition unfitted him for active service. The present trouble is said to be due to overwork. It will be remembered that it was Commander Kellogg's vessel, the Kearsarge, that was to take Douglass to Hayti upon his appointment as minister to that country. Kellogg declined to take him, on the grounds of ill health, and was relieved from command of the vessel. Later he was in Haytian waters and rendered gallant service in releasing a merchant vessel which had been captured by the Haytian authorities.

Two Bodies Found.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Workmen employed by the fire department to search the ruins of the building on the corner of Fulton and Nassau streets about 5 o'clock this morning discovered the trunk of a body only about five feet away from the point where the first body was discovered. Both bodies were burned beyond recognition, but one is believed to be the remains of J. A. Dilman, aged 66, optician, who had offices on the fourth floor of the building. It cannot be explained, however, how they were caught in the trap when persons above and around them escaped. So far none of the wealth of diamonds said to be in the ruins have been found.

The James Vick Co.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 17.—The Flour City Bank this morning levied on the property of the James Vick Seedsman Corporation on a chattel mortgage for $85,000 held as collateral security. The application was granted and the corporation will be dissolved. The liabilities will amount to between $175,000 and $200,000, and the assets, if an advantageous sale of the valuable real estate owned by the firm is made, will be more than sufficient to meet them.

The company had a capital of $100,000.

The express from the west which arrived this (Monday) morning, was six hours late in consequence of an accident which occurred near Kamloops. A freight train laden with sugar was ahead, and when near Kamloops it was found that the engine was out of order and would not work. The brakes were put on and a brakeman was sent down the track with a danger flag to warn the express, which was approaching. He succeeded in stopping the express, but very shortly afterwards the freight train started down the incline and collided with the express, smashing freight cars, engine, baggage, express and passenger cars, and in fact everything that was breakable. Luckily no one was injured, not even the engine-driver of the express, who stood in the greatest peril. Repairs were made as soon as possible, and the express proceed on its way.—Calgary Tribune.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

Roswell P. Flower Nominated for the Governorship.

SARATOGA, N.Y., Sept. 16.—Promptly at 10 o'clock this morning the Democratic state convention was called to order. After the decision regarding the county democracy was presented, the committee on resolutions reported.

The platform pledges fidelity to the democratic faith as regards national issues, and the doctrine of the national platform of 1884 and 1888 is reaffirmed. The platform pronounces against the silver coinage of a dollar not of the intrinsic value of every other dollar of the United States; it denounces the new Sherman silver dollar bill as a false pretense and hindrance to free bi-metallic coinage, and as tending only to produce change from one kind of monometallism to another. This bill is declared to be a fit appendix to the "subsidy and bounty swindle." The McKinley bill is declared to be worse than the war tariff, and Blaine reciprocity is said to be a humbug.

"The squandered surplus, falsified representation and revolution procedure of the billion dollar congress, are all justly condemned by the people's uprising last November. The people of the state may be congratulated upon the beneficent results which followed the election of the Democratic assembly last year."

The Republican party is then scored for defeating in the assembly the bills passed by democrats. Continuing, the platform reads:

"Thus has the Republican party continued to betray the people's interests. It defies the constitution and denies fair representation in the legislature to 1,300,000 new inhabitants of the state, by refusing to pass the enumeration bill."

"It inflicted a blow upon the best welfare and prosperity of the state by depriving New York of the World's Fair because the Republican leader could not control its board of directors. By this act New York was deprived of the benefit of the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars within her borders. The agent in this partisan crime is now the candidate of his party for governor."

The platform favors home rule for counties and municipalities, low taxes and economical administration. It demands the enactment of a just, equitable and comprehensive liquor law framed in accordance with existing public sentiment as repeatedly manifested. A resolution was approved to suppress all sumptuary legislation that needlessly interferes with the personal liberty of the individual citizen, and demands the extension of electoral reform with a view of preventing the profuse expenditure of money by candidates. It also favors a revision of the tax laws, whereby personal and corporate property will be made to bear its full and just burdens.

Another plank declares that labor interests should be fostered. Legislative provision for a proper exhibit from the State at the World's Columbian Exposition is advocated, the oppression and expatriation practiced by the Russian government upon its Jewish citizens is condemned, and the government at Washington is called upon to bring about a cessation of these cruel persecutions. In closing, the administration of Governor Hill is endorsed and his faithful discharge of its responsibility declared to justify the continuance of the trust reposed in him by the Democratic party.

The resolutions were adopted with cheers. The following also were passed:

"Resolved, that this convention views with gratification the growing friendly feeling towards the Democratic party, of our colored citizens in this State, and welcomes them to our ranks with the assurance that, within our party, discrimination on account of race or color is discountenanced."

A motion was then made to proceed with the nominations, and Mayor Porter nominated Roswell P. Flower for governor. This nomination was seconded, on behalf of Tammany, by Col. Fellows. Bourke Cochrane also seconded his nomination. Thomas De Witt, of King, placed Alfred C. Chapin in nomination for Governor.

Flower was nominated on the first ballot. Flower, 334; Chapin, 43. Chas. Adams, of King's, chairman of the delegation, made the nomination unanimous, amid the wildest scenes.

A Hebrew's Luck.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Alexander Potruch, a young Hebrew who lives 117 Clinton street, was informed Monday that an uncle in San Francisco had left $14,000,000 to his mother. Alexander, who is practically the head of the family, is now convinced that a fortune of this amount, or even more, is waiting for him in San Francisco. He has a pocketful of letters and lawyers' cards from people desiring to assist him in securing the property. His mother received a letter from a Dr. John Hall, saying he would be glad to advance the necessary funds for lawyers' expenses and other expenses. Alexander will start for San Francisco Friday night, with his lawyers, Wm. F. Howe and Judge Goldfogle. They will investigate matters, and will take possession of the property providing they find it. But anticipating further prosperity, Alexander has not been unmindful of present happiness. He has been engaged to Sarah Grantzer, who lives near his home. Inspired by the conviction of future riches, and also believing a "bird in the hand worth two in the bush," he went Monday with his betrothed to the mayor's office, and was married. The people in the neighborhood evidently wish him well for he says they propose to paint that section of the city a glorious red when he leaves his humble home in Clinton to take possession of his fortune. He moved his father and mother and brother from the old country, and if everything at San Francisco is as expected, he intends to move them again.

DAVIES V. MCMILLAN.

Following is the judgment of Mr. Justice McCreight in the appeal case of Joshua Davies, plaintiff, and James Ellacalet McMillan, defendant:

There is an appeal from the judgment of the Chief Justice which he delivered upon the findings of the jury before whom the case was tried, and there was also an argument upon a motion for a new trial, which I shall deal with presently. Paragraphs 36 and 37 of the statement of defence assert that the proceedings and judgment of the interpleader issue between Davies and Turner's case is conclusive against Davies's right to the goods for all purposes and between all parties, but I think the proposition cannot be maintained. It is to be remembered that the interpleader issue was only for the purpose of informing the conscience of the court as to whether in the case of Turner & Co. v. King the goods were available to satisfy the executive creditors and could have no ulterior operation. If conclusive against Davies for all purposes and between all parties it would also have been equally conclusive in his favor against all creditors if the decision had been for him, but this proposition is obviously not maintainable. The decision was not in rem. (Order 57, Rule 4. Chitty's English Cababe, p.49; 2 Ach. & E. 1800, 14 Edn. for the consolidation of interpleader orders would have been wholly useless if such doctrine was law. Outram vs. Morrewood, 3 East, and the notes to the Duchess of Kingston's case, 2 Sm. L. Cs. may be referred to as showing the conditions of a plea in bar res judicata. But then it was contended that the Divisional Court order of the 16th day of April A.D. 1888, operated as a stay of proceedings. Now it seems nearly a contradiction in terms, or at least anomalous, to insist on this as a stay of proceedings after verdict and judgment, in all events it seems too late to invoke it. But I think it could not have at any time been successfully invoked and indeed the proceedings before the Chief Justice and the Divisional Court show much; for at the end of last year he refused to stay proceedings in the action and the Divisional Court though divided affirmed the order. I may observe that perusal of the order of the 16th April 1888, coupled with the orders of the 14th January and 23rd March preceding, seem to show that the object of the order of 16th April was mainly to keep alive the protection afforded to the Sheriff by the order of the 14th January, whilst rescinding in other respects that order as well as the order of the Chief Justice of the 23rd March refusing to rescind his previous order. If the order of the 16th April was meant to protect the Sheriff in omnibus, it is, I think, ultra vires and as such an appeal from it would have been and was unnecessary. see per Jessel M. R., Cape Breton Co. vs. Fenn, 17 Chan. D. 202, C.A. This view may work a hardship on the Sheriff, but if the findings of the jury in this case are to prevail then the goods must be taken to have been the goods of Davies as from the date of his purchase as between him and the Sheriff, except so far as Davies' right to them has been effectually displaced, at all events such protection could at best extend only to sales made under the writ of the 6th January at suit of Bank of British Columbia. The trespasses complained of in the present action seem to consist mainly of sales made by the Sheriff during the month of April and for the purpose of course of satisfying other executions.

I think section 90 of the County Court Act, Consolidated Statutes, cannot help the Sheriff for the above reasons, if the finding of the jury is to stand, and I think the Act is only concerned with the case in hand—that is, Turner vs. King for $337.

I think no case of election can be made out on the part of Davies, to take the proceeds of the Sheriff's sale merely by reason of Davies' applying to have the money paid out of court to him, inasmuch as such application was not made till the 12th December, 1888, and the writ of trespass, etc., had already issued during the previous month of November.

With respect to the argument on the rule for a new trial, some of it was as applicable as much to an appeal against the judgment of the Chief Justice upon the verdict or findings of the jury as to the rule, but it will be convenient to deal with it as it was addressed to us.

Now it does seem to me that the findings of the jury that Davies did not intend that any particular creditors should be preferred, and secondly that he bought out and out for himself, are exhaustive and conclusive in favor of Davies, and that it has been settled by a line of cases, including Tuer vs. Harrison, C. P., and up to Burns vs. Mackay, 10 Ontario Reports, that a concurrence of wrong intent of the part of the purchaser as well as the seller is necessary in order that the deed should be held void. The imperfect answer of the jury to the question "Was the sale made in the ordinary course of business?" seems, to me, not very material in this view. A sale not made in the ordinary course of business is not necessarily made with intent to prefer or fraudulent, though of course suspicious. I do not wonder at the jury finding in favor of Davies, or at least their finding may be explained by the circumstance that Davies paid $8000, and that the goods when sold apparently under a well managed sale by the Sheriff realized only $6894 net.

Mr. Richards for the defendant, I believe, admitted he could find no English, or Ontario case, or in the Supreme Court of Canada, to the effect that sales not made in the ordinary course of business are necessarily fraudulent, under this Act, or void.

Mr Richards argued there was misdirection in the charge of the Chief Justice in assuming that legal insolvency as well as commercial insolvency was necessary to make the Act apply, but assuming this to be so, this is not material if the purchaser satisfies the provisions of the Act and I think the two findings of the jury of which I have referred go that length.

Mr. Rickards argued that judgment should not have been given by the Chief Justice for the sum of $9061, as that amount was only given on the footing that the Sheriff was to have the sum of $6894, which he paid into court, but I think that cases cited by Mr. Wilson go far to answer that objection, i.e., Mears v. G, 1 Man & Gr; Sheridan v. Pigeon, 10 Ontario, Rep. 632 and 637, and Bisknell vs. Smith, 62 Pennsyl., but I think that the objection admits of a further answer, namely, that the recommendation of the jury was little more than a statement of the law. It is held in Richmond vs. White, 12 Chan. D.,C.A., that a party paying money into court under an order loses none of his rights to the fund, see especially per Cotton, L. J. Therefore this question must be determined as if that amount were still in the Sheriff's hands. Now if that were so under the old system of pleading (and the new would not substantially differ) the Plaintiff would sue the Sheriff for the proceeds of the sale as for money had and received and would join a claim in trover or trespass for the goods. If successful he would take his verdict no doubt for the larger sum that is the damages, and upon payment of that amount the defendant would be entitled to the proceeds or the goods if they continued in specie. This seems to be amply proved by Buckland vs. Johnson, 24 L. J., C. P. per Jervis, C.J., though his dictum was qualified by Brinsmead v. Harrison, L.R. 6, C.P., showing that the property did not vest in the trespasser till he had paid the damages, but did thereupon. Whence it should seem that if the verdict and judgment stand and the Sheriff pays the damages, he will be entitled to the money in Court. The result of the litigation being that whilst Davies is entitled to damages, the Sheriff is or will be entitled to the goods or the proceeds, of course this assumes that Davies owns the goods under the Bill of Sale of January, 1888, and it is just possible, though not probable, that in a suit on behalf of the creditors this position might be successfully controverted, but even if such action was brought on behalf of the creditors, on the principle that he who seeks equity must do it, the plaintiff would have to pay Davies the sum he had paid of $8000 and of course this would not be done merely for the purpose of obtaining the proceeds in court, namely $6894. An action by one creditor alone on his own account, would probably under all the circumstances be stayed, and an action on behalf of all directed, which no doubt in view of the preliminary payment, or offer to be made, would be dropped.

Of course before so large a sum as $6894 was paid out due precautions would be taken by the court, but it does seem to me that it may be looked upon as a kind of discharge to the sheriff if the verdict stands. As to which, however. I am by no means sure that my learned brothers entertain the same views as I do. I cannot say the verdict is such as reasonable men could not have arrived at, and I have to bear in mind that the finding of fraud, or its absence, is especially within the province of the jury.

I think the judgment of the Chief Justice should be affirmed, and that the order nisi for a new trial should be discharged.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidney or urinary organs of either sex.

THE EXTRA EXPENDITURE.

There was once a woman, and it is said her type is not extinct, who was in the habit of crying out "I told you so," when anything extraordinary happened. One day her husband rushed into the room where she was sitting and informed her in tones of great perturbation that "the cow had eaten up the grindstone." "I told you so"! moaned the old woman, "I told you so"! In respect of the supplementary estimates, we expect that our morning contemporary will emulate the old woman. "I told you so," will be its refrain tomorrow, intermingled with which will be the demand that the captious Opposition hide its diminished head. But softly, if we anticipate aright the organ that burns the midnight oil. Is not the TIMES to get some credit for these supplementary estimates? Quite true the TIMES did not ask for $9000 to be squandered on a battery which in point of defensive significance has about the value of a boy's pop gun, but it did lay stress on harbor improvements and the reluctant ear of the Government took in the admonition. Victoria has been given $20,000 for outer harbor improvements. The TIMES gives itself credit of having been chiefly instrumental in forcing upon the dense understanding of the Government the necessity of appropriating funds for practical purposes inseparable from the commercial development of the city.

Nevertheless the TIMES is not satisfied. The military idea pervades the appropriations from beginning to end. The appropriations taken in the aggregate would lead a stranger to suspect that war was imminent. All that is necessary to complete the idea is the creation of a Military Division of British Columbia, with headquarters at the corner of Government and Johnson streets. The appropriations are, roughly stated, $26,000 for harbor improvements, and $30,700 for war. We look upon appropriations of the latter kind as a deterrent to commercial and manufacturing enterprise. The careful man will scarcely elect to settle down in a locality in which the prevailing idea is, in time of peace prepare for war, and leave to private enterprise the expense of operating the Mud Lark. Had the appropriations been $50,700 for harbor improvements and $6000 for military purposes, we should have had about the proper arrangement, and timid, peacefully inclined persons would more seriously incline toward Victoria as a good place to set up in business. In their dreams they would not hear the boom of cannon, the crash of shells and the rattle of firearms. Nine thousand dollars for Macaulay Point battery, and the city, according to the Colonist, sadly in need of a new custom house! A more senseless appropriation than this it would be difficult to conceive of. What will $9000 do toward rejuvenating the battery on Macaulay Point? Not to mention earthworks fit for defence, the sum will not suffice to prepare the foundations for the cannon which are to repel the invader. Nine thousand dollars for a battery! The military genius that conceived of this appropriation has no more idea of war than an aborigine of psychology. The money will be spent to no purpose, while twice $26,000 is being expended on harbor improvements by private enterprise.

To complete the military force there should be an arsenal started in this city. As soon as Col. Prior returns a delegation should wait on him with the request that he take steps to have his stock of pruning hooks turned into swords and his plows broken up and cast into cannon to be mounted in Fort Macaulay. Nor should military preparations stop here. The Mud Lark should be seized and turned into a floating battery.

THE CALL FOR PURITY.

The Hamilton Spectator declares itself to the effect that it is the plain duty of the Conservative party to reconstruct the cabinet. "It will be the duty of the Premier," says the Spectator, "to find men who not only are personally pure, but who will see that those under him do not steal." "If the wish of the Conservative party is consulted, no tainted man can have a place in the new cabinet." Does the Spectator realize what it is saying? If there is no place for a tainted man in the new cabinet, what is to become of Abbott? Does the Spectator hold that this man is not savory of corruption? Clearly, if the Spectator's idea is carried out, one of the first persons to be got rid of is the treasurer of the corruption fund of 1872. We should have a curious incongruity in an untainted cabinet with a tainted man at the head of it. Such is Toryism, illogical, asinine. An untainted cabinet with a tainted man at the head of it is a proposition that could only emanate from a Tory sheet, and find place as a reasonable proposition in a Tory head. The proposition to place a notorious burglar at the head of some benevolent institution would not be more absurd than the proposition to organize a cabinet of untainted men with the boodler of '72 at the head of it.

ATLANTIC GREYHOUNDS.

As to quick passages across the Atlantic, laurels have fluctuated considerably during the last thirty-five years, being now worn for a time by one and again by another of the various steamship lines to Europe which have made the passage not a journey but a holiday. At present the roll of honor stands thus: The White Star Line first, the Inman second, and the Cunard third. The record of the changes, however, forms very interesting history, and shows the great improvement which has taken place in the building of Atlantic steamers.

For many years the Cunard line held the lead. It first attained that position in 1855, when the Persia beat the best of the Collins steamers, a feat which was likewise accomplished in 1861 by the new steamer Scotia—the last of the paddle steamers on the Atlantic. These two steamers retained the laurel for the Cunard Line till 1867, when it was wrested away by the new screw steamer City of Paris of the Inman line. In 1869 the City of Brussels, also of the Inman Line, proved her superiority to any of the Cunarders, as did also the City of Chester in 1872, and the City of Berlin in 1874. The following year, 1875, the honor was in turn wrested from the Inman Line by the White Star Line steamers Britannic and Germanic, and held it for four years. In 1879 the Arizona (built on the Clyde) won the coveted honor to the Guion Line—though there was considerable discussion whether she had really beaten the new Cunarder Servia. This controversy, however, was set at rest in 1882, when the new Guion Line steamer Alaska made the quickest passage of all. In 1884 (after a lapse of sixteen years) the Cunard Line again came to the front by the performance of the new steamer Oregon. Next the performances of the Umbria in 1884, and the Etruria, in 1885, confirmed the lead of the Cunard Line. This they held until 1889, when the City of Paris again won the honor for the Inman Line. Now that Line has had to surrender the laurel to the White Star Line because of the passages made by the Majestic and Teutonic.

During the last thirty-five years the Cunard Line held first place for about seventeen years, the Inman for about nine years, the Guion for four and a half years, and the White Star now for nearly four years. The quickest passages made by the several lines are as follows:—White Star Line—Teutonic, 5 days, 16 hours, 31 minutes; Inman Line—City of Paris, 5 days, 19 hours, 18 minutes; and Cunard Line—Umbria, 6 days, 2 hours, 31 munites.

The Bank of England.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The directors of the Bank of England held their regular semi-annual meeting to-day. The governor of the bank, Wm. Lidderdale, presided. A statement was submitted showing that the net profits for the six months ended Aug. 31 were £763,238, making the amount in the rest £3,776,802. A dividend of five guineas per cent. was declared, leaving in rest £3,012,770. The chairman expressed the opinion that the guarantors of the Barings would suffer no loss. The report of the bank's operations was adopted.

TRAVEL IN RUSSIA.

Those Who Travel Through the Czar's Domains Must Submit to Inconveniences.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says: "You must furnish your own bedclothing, pillows, wraps, towels, etc., and as all travelers in Russia as a general thing have them you are not much incommoded, except at times, when you cannot undress. The great trouble is from the unusual amount of bundles and traps of all sorts that passengers are permitted to take into the cars with them, oftentimes thereby infringing upon the rights of others in the occupying of all the racks and most of the desirable seats, especially so when often upon trains of from ten to twelve passenger cars there is no more than one half of a car allotted to first-class passengers. The first-class half is painted blue outside and numbered, and the other half drab, also numbered as to class. You are also annoyed at the clouds of cigarette smoke, caused by the universal habit of smoking in the cars, at the table and almost everywhere else. There are no smoking rooms, not even in the hotels. Women, without regard to rank, all join in. Travel is generally by second class; the peasants by the third, with very little difference, except in fare, between the first and second class. In the first you have more elbow room and freedom from bundles. Should you be lucky enough, as it were, to secure ahead the exclusive use of a compartment you can be very comfortable indeed."

Down on Cats.

A young woman of Athens, Ga., detects the presence instantly of any feline that enters the room where she is. She need not see or hear the animal when it enters, but has intimation of its disagreeable presence by strange sensations that she invariably experiences when she is brought into contact with a cat, and she entertains an unconquerable repugnance to these animals.

Brydges, has been offered, and has accepted, a post in one of the principal business houses in Victoria, B.C., and that the land department will be amalgamated with the other interests of the company in this country, and placed under the immediate supervision and control of the commissioner, C. C. Chipman.—Winnipeg Commercial.

The Washington Foresters have made arrangements with the steamer Olympian to convey the members of their order from Seattle and Bellingham Bay points to Victoria on the occasion of the Foresters' demonstration here on October 1st. The Vancouver Foresters have arranged for a special excursion by the steamer Yosemite to leave there at 7:30 a.m. with the privilege of staying over till the next day. The Olympian will leave Victoria for Seattle at 12 o'clock midnight. This will be one of the best Foresters' demonstrations held on the coast.

A Rich Vein.

Mr. Elliott, who came down from Rock Creek last week, has received some samples of ore taken out of a claim at Boundary Creek. The ledge is 40 feet wide and 120 feet deep, and is wonderfully rich in mineral, averaging all the way from $20 to $400 a ton. The work of development, Mr. Elliott says, is going on quietly there, and good work is being done without any excitement. There will be big fortunes made in that country. Mr. Elliott conveys back to the people of his district the welcome news that their monthly mail will be changed to twice a month.

YOUNG & BARTLETT.

A Relic of Olden Times.

Buried four feet below the root of a tree stump which a Jap was removing in the course of clearing some land at Victoria West to-day, was found an old sword with half the blade broken off. It bore some kind of an inscription, but the rust had played such havoc with the blade that the letters were indecipherable. The handle of the sword is of brass, and is a basket pattern.

Just a Scheme.

John Baker, stage manager of the Standard Theatre, was not in his accustomed place last night. Rumor has it that John left the city yesterday with a variety actress. He is a married man with a family so the rumor caused a sensation among his friends. Anxious to find out the truth of the matter a TIMES reporter called at the theatre. He was told that Baker had gone away and so had an actress, but they had gone in different directions. The manager said it was just a scheme to get rid of a girl who had become too fond of the stage manager and would probably have interfered with his domestic arrangements. To prevent this the girl was sent one way and the manager another. He said the manager would return as soon as the girl had got out of the way.

Not Known.

The following item was clipped from the Seattle Press-Times. After considerable enquiry it cannot be learned to whom the "Annie" belongs, or whether there is such a boat from these waters. "A small black sloop, supposed to be the Annin, a British Columbia bark, has frequently been seen by Puget Sound skippers, and some startling stories are told concerning her. It is said that she brought quantities of opium and a number of Chinamen and landed them at some unknown place on Puget Sound. Another story of her depredations is that three of her crew robbed several canoe loads of Indians. United States District Attorney Winston believes that some of these charges are well founded for he has filed a libel against her in the United States district court, charging her with landing at an unknown point on Puget Sound and making no report to the custom house authorities."

An Important Feature.

One of the most important ideas which has been but recently introduced in real estate transactions on time payments, and which must not be lost sight of, is the insurance feature which is connected with the Mount Tolmie Park sale of their property. The company agrees, in the event of the death of a purchaser of a lot or house and lot, to convey the property, free of cost, to his heirs or assigns, thus removing from his mind all apprehension that his family might be unable to continue the payments if he should die. You cannot possibly lose what you may have paid; in the event of inability to meet payments, a purchaser is given a reasonable time to meet his obligation, and if he continues delinquent his equity is sold, and the proceeds returned to him. Upon payment of cash if it is preferred instead of by instalments, the association will give a deed in fee simple for any lot selected, with the same guarantee of improvements and privileges given on time sales. The cash price for lots is $245 (the equivalent of $300 on the terms of deferred payments).

The Coming Show.

There is at present every prospect that the exhibition of 1891 will be the greatest and most successful in the history of the British Columbia Agricultural Society. All the arrangements are in a fair way to completion. Professor Hands, of Hamilton, who gave such an admirable display of fire works at the Queen's birthday celebration, is here to superintend the display which will be made at the fair. The fireworks have already arrived, and will be "let off" in the Driving Park, where they can be viewed from the agricultural building. The Victoria Athletic Club are practicing for an exhibition which they will give on one of the days, while other days will be devoted to a bicycle tournament, lacrosse and baseball matches. With these sports going on, and the fall meeting of the jockey club taking place at the same time there will be no lack of amusement. As soon as the races at Salem are over a large number of horses now on that programme will be sent over to Victoria to finish their training for the races here. The executive of the agricultural society is kept busy answering enquiries from all parts of the province as well as Washington and Oregon with regard to the arrangements for the exhibition. With such widespread interest displayed the directors are confident of an immense success.

JOHN KURTZ IS DEAD.

John Kurtz is dead. And with his death is closed the career of one of the most genial, whole-souled and generous-minded of men in Victoria. John Kurtz, a pioneer of the pioneers themselves, looked up to and respected by all, and loved by not a few, was one of the most familiar figures left from early times; a living page of the early history not merely of Victoria, nor yet of British Columbia, but of the phenomenal California, which welcomed such a wondrous tide of humanity into its midst about the fifties when gold was, as it is to-day, the great moving power of mankind. The great fever that throbbed through the gold veins of California, stirred up by the shovels and picks of the miners, subsided somewhat, only to find its way farther north into British Columbia. Thither the miners and gold seekers flocked, and in the tide fortunes were made and spent in a day almost. John Kurtz was in the flood which found its way into this Province, but when the excitement had calmed down somewhat, and the majority of the gold hunters disappeared, Mr. Kurtz was among the few who remained, casting in his lot with the country in whose future he had unbounded confidence. He came here in 1858 from San Francisco, where he had been in business for about eight years, and camped with the now Governor Nelson in a tent pitched on a field where now is the corner of Johnson and Broad streets. Their camp was near the ravine, with those of several others, who had a like object in view—gold—and there are old timers with prosperous businesses and snug bank accounts now in Victoria, who still tell stories of cooking their meat over the same camp fire with John Kurtz. He was always a genial companion, would "give and take a joke" with perfect good nature; could tell a good story; was generous enough almost to make it a fault with him, and was always a gentleman.

Mr. Kurtz joined in the rush for Cariboo, and while making a good deal of money in steamboating, the was chairman of the old Yale Steam Navigation Company), he also had considerable good fortune in gold mining ventures, in several of which he was at different times interested. In the decade marked by 1860 to 1870, he was engaged in several mining operations, in which he amassed a good deal of wealth. It was in 1878 that he returned to Victoria, and established the well-known "Pioneer" White Labor Cigar Factory, of Kurtz & Co., which is one of the old business columns of Victoria.

Mr. Kurtz has not been well for some time past. Yesterday he was somewhat worse and he was conveyed to the hospital for closer treatment. He succumbed this morning between 4 and 5 o'clock, the immediate cause being heart failure. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1831, and was educated there.

The remains were brought down from the Jubilee Hospital this afternoon and placed in the Pioneer Hall where only a few days since the deceased superintended the funeral arrangements of the late Captain Dexter.

THREE SEALERS ARRIVE.

The Pioneer, Venture and Wanderer Return this Morning.

The trim little schooner Venture, Captain Smith, was one of the trio of sealers that arrived in the harbor this morning. The Venture has been away about eight and a half months, having left here on the first of January and in all that time has only spoken one other sealer. She had very poor luck on the coast, not having got a skin. On the first of July she was spoken by the C. H. Tupper, who told her of the international agreement, and Capt. Smith at once made up his mind to steer clear of all vessels resembling men of war. Several times he saw government vessels in the distance at night, but by shutting out his lights and stealing quietly away in the darkness he managed to escape being warned until the 7th of August. On that day there was a very dense fog, and the Venture was lying to, when suddenly the fog lifted and just a short distance off was the Thetis. A boat was at once let down and the Venture was boarded and Captain Smith warned. At that time he had 501 skins, all caught in the sea. He then sailed for the Russian coast, where 158 more skins were captured. Behring sea was left on the 27th of August, the schooner experiencing fair winds until off the west coast of the island, where she has been lying becalmed since the 3rd instant. Captain Smith attributed his comparatively small catch, 1659 skins, to having inexperienced Indian hunters. He says that if he had had good white hunters he would have secured one of the largest catches ever brought into Victoria harbor.

THE WANDERER.

Schooner Wanderer, Captain Walsh, left here 17th February, and returned this morning at 2 o'clock with 537 seals. The Wanderer is a small schooner carrying six canoes. The voyage was uneventful till August 15, when the U.S. man-of-war Marion broke the monotony by ordering the schooner out of Behring Sea. Being short of provisions, Capt. Walsh decided to run into Ounalaska, and while lying under bare poles on August 19 was boarded by an officer and crew from H.M.S. Porpoise. Capt. Walsh explained his position and the commander of the Porpoise kindly consented to tow him into Ounalaska, some 40 miles. Much has been said derogatory to the conduct of H.M. officers in Behring Sea, but so far at least as the Wanderer is concerned Capt. Walsh speaks highly of the commander and other officers of H.M.S. Porpoise. He thanks them for correcting his chronometer and for a liberal donation of pea soup and grog

THE PIONEER.

The schooner Pioneer, or as she is more familiarly known, the "Pathfinder," Capt. Lavender, arrived this morning. She has a rather short story, but reports a good catch. The Pioneer entered Behring Sea June 30th, left it Sept. 1st, and never was warned. Once, when she was peacefully pursuing her course toward the close of day, she saw looming up on the horizon a large steamer, which seemed to convey to the captain a faint odor of blue jackets and government documents; and not having any particular use for either, he did not wait for an interview. The steamer gave chase, but the night and darkness coming on, the schooner was enabled to make good her escape. She brought in from the sea 1481 skins, making her total catch for the season 2351. The entrance to the sea was passed, on the homeward voyage, Sept. 7.

Messrs. Carne & Munsie, the owners of the Pioneer, are making every effort to have the skins packed and have them in Vancouver with those the Viva brought down, in time to go east with the large silk train that leaves there Monday, so as to have them in London for the October sales.

The Cariboo Fly.

At last evening's meeting of the city council a letter was read from Mr. Henry Saunders offering the steamer Cariboo Fly to the city for use as a fire-boat. She could also be used for towing barges laden with refuse for dumping in deep water. The old "Fly" would prove very useful as a fire-boat, because she has splendid pumping facilities, and no matter how good the fire department might be on shore, a couple of streams from a boat on a fire in one of the warehouses would be of important assistance to the work being done on shore. As Mr. Saunders offered to take payment in debentures, his offer was referred to the finance committee.

CENSUS TO BE TAKEN.

The Council a Unit on the Necessity of This Step—A Short Session.

There were present at last evening's meeting of the City Council, His Worship Mayor Grant, Ald. Smith, Coughlan, Munn, Robertson, Holland and Richards. Among the correspondence was a complaint from Lewis Lewis that the request for a sidewalk opposite his property had not been complied with.—Referred to street committee.

W. H. Bainbridge wrote asking the council's assistance in making up the district in connection with the late horticultural show.—Referred to the finance committee.

Jas. Dalton complained of a scandalous nuisance on Johnson street above Douglas where several houses of disrepute had sprung up.—Referred to police committee.

T. J. Fartridge reported that Mrs. Stewart considered her water rate too high.—Referred to finance committee.

Edwin Johnson enclosed account for duties as police magistrate—Received and referred to the finance committee and mayor to be paid if correct.

A. G. McCandless complained of the deterioration of his property on the Saanich road through the grading done by the city—Referred to street committee for report.

R. Carmichael, analyst, reported on some samples of sewer pipe submitted to him by Mr. Mohun, and condemned the same as badly glazed. It was found on enquiry that the majority of the pipes stood the test satisfactorily, and were not condemned by Mr. Carmichael amount to only about one wagon load.

John S. Shuburn asking again for water supply to 15 Oscar street—Referred to water committee.

W. P. Lindley wrote asking for electric light in the Assembly rooms on the occasion of the firemen's ball—Referred to the electric light committee with power to act.

The same correspondent asked for a number of Chinese lanterns for decorative purposes of the fire hall during the tournament—Granted.

R. T. Williams offered to take the city census for the sum of $500.

Ald. Richards moved that the letter be received and accepted.

Ald. Smith moved that this offer be laid on the table for consideration with others of the same nature.—Carried.

W. H. Danby asked for a box drain on Heywood avenue.—Referred to sanitary committee.

T. B. McCabe wrote, stating that no drain exists on Simcoe street, corner of Menzies, and asking that such a state of things be remedied.—Referred to sewerage committee.

The electric light committee reported to the effect that they found that the recommendations contained in the reports of Andrew Gray and R. B. McKechnie, though admitting of some modifications of detail, in the main embrace only what is barely necessary to warrant a feeling of security in attempting a maintenance of the lighting system. The committee recommended that the work be carried out.

Sanitary Engineer Mohun reported that with one exception the whole of the sewerage work was completed or partially completed, on a portion of the outlet, the Humboldt and Cook street mains, with the exception referred to, and about 250 feet of 8-inch lateral on Blanchard street. No work has been performed on the laterals, owing to the lack of junctions. Up to 31st August the following work has been performed: The channel for the outlet street pipe has been blasted through rock a distance of 240 feet, with an average depth of 5 feet from high water mark to deep water. A portion (120 feet) of the steel main is on the ground, awaiting a favorable opportunity to lay it. From high water mark northwards the trench for the 2 ft. 3in. x 4 ft. 3in. sewer is down to grade, and during the past week the construction of the sewer has been commenced. The tunnel on Moss street has been driven 1105 lineal feet, of which 711 feet are in earth, 206 in hard pan, and 188 in rock; 3826 feet of the concrete sewer have been built, and practically arched between the north end of the tunnel and Southgate street. The following pipes have been laid: 1116 lineal feet of 30 in. pipe, 2502 of 24 in. pipe, 598 of 15 in. pipe; 638 of 12 in. pipe; 916 of 10 in. pipe, and 246 of 8 in. pipe. The work on some portions, more particularly for the 30 in. and 18 in., has been heavy, with a large amount of rock, which has been the cause of the slow progress made during the last two months. The large flush-tank and manhole at the corner of Cook and Snowden streets, has been completed, as have five other manholes and 11 ventilators. Three other manholes are nearly completed. The estimate for the month contains a detailed statement of items, but is too long to reproduce. In addition to the above, about 105 feet of tunnel in rock, at the intersection of Government and Humboldt streets, has been driven. In all tunnel work, night as well as day shifts are employed, working on all available places. The work hitherto performed being almost exclusively for the large sewers, is, of course, the most expensive to be undertaken, and, considering the difficulties encountered, has made satisfactory progress.

Quite a number of applications were received for the position of caretaker of the city market. All of them were laid on the table.

Mr. Dowler reported the sale of the Bridge engine house to Wm. Templeman of the TIMES for $13,800.

Ald. Munn moved for a correct census of the city, and that a committee of three be appointed to see to the carrying out of this work, the expense not to exceed $500. In moving this resolution Ald. Munn mentioned a certain city which is now making a great noise over its census. He had enquired and found that Victoria had one-third greater school attendance than the city in question, to say nothing of the large number of private schools. In the matter of water service it was shown in evidence in the waterworks case before the courts here that there were 1200 services in a certain city while there are 2600 in this city. There was further evidence to be gained from the city directory, which shows 2000 more names this year than last.

The motion was carried unanimously. Ald. Munn, Richards and Holland being appointed a committee on the subject.

Ald. Richards moved that the city clerk call for tenders for the Deluge engine house, the sale to Wm. Templeman of the TIMES not having been confirmed by the Council.

Is commonly said of famous beauties. She who uses with artistic taste Wisdom's Famous Robertine has fortune in the possessing of a complexion to which nothing but the blush of the rose or the freshness of the lily can be compared. This preparation is just what it is claimed to be—the most delightful toilet article and only perfect beautifier known. THE CALF CASE.

An Iowa Lawsuit That Began Over Twenty Years Ago.

After Outlasting One Generation It Is Taken Up by Another—Everybody Connected with It Bankrupted Except the Lawyers.

A few days ago, says the New York Tribune, the telegraph brought the intelligence that the famous "Jones county calf case," the most celebrated proceedings at law ever before the Iowa courts, had been finally brought to a close after over twenty years of active life by a verdict in the supreme court for the plaintiff. We refrained from commenting on it at the time as we could not believe the report. It did not seem possible that the able counsel employed on both sides would let it die outside of the United States supreme court. Later advices, however, seem to show that the first report was only too true and that the Jones county calf case is no more. As a thing reared by the hand of man it was, we suppose, only natural that it should have an end.

It was a bright day in early June, 1869, that five young calves might have been observed wending their way down a Jones county road, as young calves will do. They were the property of a man named Johnson. Soon these five thoughtless young calves came to the garden of a man named Miller. They broke into this garden and ate up and tramped down sundry vegetables. Miller came out and "sicced" his dog on the marauding calves. The dog chased them back up the pretty Jones county road on a fast run. Indeed he chased them so fast that when they arrived at their home three of them died from exhaustion. The others were injured, one of them dying in 1872. The other, it is true, lingered along as late as 1885, but it never was what it should have been and was always more or less troubled with palpitation of the heart. The next day after the calves came home bringing the dog behind them Johnson engaged counsel and began a spirited defense. This was the beginning of the Jones county calf case. The amount for which Johnson sued was forty-five dollars, the value of three calves. Miller, through his counsel, set up the following defense: First, that the calves were never at his place; second, that he noticed when they broke in that they were sick and about ready to die; and third, that they didn't die at all, but were sold by Johnson to a man in a neighboring county. The case got a good start in '69 and ran on vigorously through the early and late 70's, took a new lease of life in December, 1879, and galloped along through the 80's, showed great activity during 1890, and opened the present year in perhaps the best shape that it has ever been in; but before scarcely a month has passed it is cut off in its prime. Miller died in 1878, but his children kept up the fight; Johnson held out to 1889, dying the next day after his last calf, but active grandchildren stood ready and anxious to take up the struggle. Why the Iowa supreme court, composed of judges who were formerly lawyers, let the case end, we cannot conceive.

For it is on the lawyers that the burden of the ending of the Jones county calf case falls the heaviest. The first dispatch said significantly: "It has bankrupted everybody connected with it except the attorneys." It comes with especially crushing effect on Col. Markham and family, counsel for the plaintiff. Col. Markham began with the case in 1869. He gave up his other practice in 1875 and devoted himself solely to it. Four years ago he associated his son, George Markham, a rising young lawyer of thirty, with him in the case, and it was the colonel's intention to retire at the end of this year and leave it altogether to the younger man. George Markham has a little son six years old, and many times his father has taken him on his knee and told him how he expected him to enter the law and some day succeed to the case on which his grandfather and father had lived so long. Now, of course, all of these bright prospects are shattered. Col. Markham, it is true, can retire with a comfortable fortune and George has an excellent start in life, but the Iowa supreme court has heartlessly left the boy with no prospect whatever.

Thus the Jones county calf case passes into history along with the civil war, the surrender of Cornwallis and the discovery of America.

Tea Drinking Increasing.

A New York tea dealer says that in a few years coffee will not be in the race with tea, and that the number of tea drinkers is increasing greatly. Now in England the people drink tea as much, if not more than coffee—while here we have a nation of coffee drinkers. Look at the big tea houses now prospering in this country. The demand for the seductive weed is becoming greater, especially in large cities. Fashionable afternoon teas and the habit of handing tea around at receptions show just how it is being drunk. The fine Ceylon tea now in vogue is a healthy drink and has a splendid flavor. All through the west coffee is becoming less popular and tea is the popular drink.

Could Scarcely See.

Mrs. John Martin, of Montague Bridge, P.E.I., writes: "I was troubled last summer with very bad headaches and constipation and sometimes could scarcely see. One bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters made a complete cure of my case, and I wish you every success.

Mr. Tu. er against $1200 each on lots 2, 3, 4 and 5, block H, lots 4 and 5, reduced to $800 each.

Ald. Holland thought that the court should exempt from taxation the Protestants' Orphan Home, as it was a strictly benevolent institution.

His Worship pointed out that the court of revision could not take any action in the matter. The only place where that could be dealt with was in the city council.

Mr. Northcott, the assessor, in a most triumphant manner announced that the whole of the reductions of his assessments amounted to less than 1 per cent. of the total, or that about $200,000 was taken from the assessor's figures for the city, which amounted to $17,500,000.

His Worship, after a few remarks, permanently adjourned the court. All those who are not now satisfied will have to appeal to a higher court.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." EDWARD JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BROOKS, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PHEBE MOSHER, 90 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy anything else instead. Insist upon having

THE NANAIMO COAL (Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes).

THE SOUTH FIELD COAL (Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL

House and Steam Coal are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power unequalled by any other bituminous Gas Coal in the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL, which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay, where ships of the largest tonnage are loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.
